Terminal Disclaimer

The terminal disclaimer filed on 04-08-2005 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of 6,792,206 or 6,580,876 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1, 8, 9 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Cote et al.

Cote et al. detects the bullet and thus clearly detects “an actual discharge of live ammunition from the firearm.”

Art Unit: 2851

Claims 1, 8, 9 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Bridges.

Bridges detects the bullet and thus clearly detects “an actual discharge of live ammunition from the firearm.”

Claims 1, 8, 9 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Raposa et al.

Raposa et al. detects the bullet and thus clearly detects “an actual discharge of live ammunition from the firearm.”

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-7 and 10-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
